Grey hair her passport

"One of the compensations for having your hair turn grey is that you can go out and talk to anyone and get a good reception," said Edna, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Miss Gifford now represents 11,000,000 clubwomen in the United States and has 125,000 miles of air travel in the past 18 months. It was during that time she learned the advantages of grey hair.

When she wasn't talking with rulers of government or clubwomen in the countries she visited, she was striking up conversations with men she encountered in the street, restaurants and hotels to get their views.

On her visit to the 49th state last fall, she let an 80-year-old courtier in Kentucky teach her how to pan gold, and learned there's no much profit in this poorer endeavor anymore.

"I brought back a little bit of gold," she said.

"I was worth about twenty cents," she said.

"Last winter," she said.

"I think everybody should go there before it gets too late."

She made some of her sight-seeing jaunts in "plane on time."

store at only a little more than I had paid," she said with a laugh.

When Hong Kong was visited, she said, on visiting a settlement house in Hong Kong to have the little boys and their director, who is a Kentucky Hound in English especially for her. In return she gave each one a glass of milk in the name of the Federation and handed each one a schoolbook and a pencil.

Her greatest concern arising from her travels was the fact that the images were presenting should not "lose good," she said. "If we ever present a perfect democracy to the world, we're going to have to find it out on our own doorstep at the community level," she declared.

Her plea to clubwomen is to "live by the Golden Rule, even if it is for selfish reason, for self preservation." And, she said, "let us do all in our power to avoid the worst of the world."

shelter materials rushed to Kelsey.

Two hundred loads of tarpaulins and a large contingent of men arrived at Kelsey, Minn., in a special train from the Federal Electric Power Project.

According to Hydro Electric board officials, the tarpaulins, plywood and other lumber will be used to cover the framework structure where the metal cladding will be put on.

The officials added that the tarpaulins will provide shelter for the workers and protect the framework and other equipment from the weather.

FEDERAL REPUBLIC OF GERMANY

In faced with a trade problem precisely the opposite of that confronting Canada. Preliminary figures for the year 1959 show West Germany with an uncomfortable large favorable trade balance of $1,400 million. Exports from West Germany last year came close to $10 billion, while imports were around $8.5 billion.

Worth noting is the fact that in 1959 West German exports to Canada rose some 16 per cent, while Canadian exports to West Germany dropped by roughly 35 per cent. Worth noting, too, is that Canada's overall trade deficit estimated for 1959, of $1,400 million, just equals West Germany's trade surplus for 1959. These figures suggest that Federal Republic of Germany has done a much better job on the economic front than has Canada. West Germany faces few labor problems and no wage spiral comparable to that which exists in Canada. Government at Bonn is firmly committed to economic freedom and the market economy. Tax structure is such that initiative is not blunted.

That West Germany has recovered in 15 years from the ravages of war devastation and is today, in relative terms, more prosperous than Canada, is something which should give the economic pundits and chats at Ottawa food for thought.

Local & District

Today, (Thursday), is St.
Patrick's Day, when all good Irishmen dress in leprechaun cost, in celebration of the occasion.

Mrs. Wm. Gibson returned home last week following a three weeks visit with her daughter and son-in-law, and Mrs. Wm. Gillespie, in Edmonton.

Miss Audrey See, of Calgary, visited with her parents last week end.

Mr. W. Speelman, of Midwest Paper Sales, Calgary, was a business visitor in Delia Wednesday of this week.

Mrs. John Dickenson, nee Phyllis Frisley, gained away at Salmon Arm, B.C., on Saturday, March 12th.

The weather here has turned much milder, with the snow melting fast and water running down the streets. The temperature is 60 above.

Home Made Grain Dryer

Faced with the problem of how to handle a large quantity of rough and damp grain, Ken King of Drumheller, Alberta, set out to build himself a dryer.

The total cost of the equipment was in the vicinity of $300.00, and W. P. Paton, District Agricultural for the Drumheller area, is convinced of a large cottonseed oil, originally used to emulsify a cold mixer, and a mill and a half B.T.U. second-hand furnace.

A false bottom was built to fit into the truck box. It was constructed with 2" x 4" overlaid with screen and fly screen. A warm air duct leads from the furnace and is attached to the false bottom of the truck box which is partially raised by the hoist for alignment. A thermocouple is kept in the warm air duct and a thermometer of 310 degrees maintained. This prevents approach due to overloading which is the biggest hazard encountered in grain drying.

Using low grade shelled coal and a diesel engine to drive the fan, the cost of drying grain from rough to dry, is approximately one cent per bushel. The capacity is about 400 bushels in a ten hour day, says Mr. Paton.

FREE TREES

There are still a limited number of trees available from the provincial nursery at both Brooks and Oliver for furnished shelter belts, field windbreaks and roadside shelter belts.

Available species, white spruce, Manitoba maple, green alder, American elm, Russian olive, hickories, European and silver, Honeysuckle and other common trees are the species from which you may make your choice.

All the trees are supplied, free of charge, providing the land where they are to be planted was summer-fallowed last year. Anybody desiring to plant a shelter belt or windbreak this spring should contact P. D. McCall, with the Alberta Department of Agriculture. In addition supply of shade and a good supply of water are important in any good pasture management.

Since the intentional value of young green plants cannot be over emphasized, a good pasture for next summer should be included in the new projects now being planned for the spring.
Superior of Horticulture, Field Crops Branch, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.
Requests should be sent in as soon as possible.

Meal Consumption

For the first six months of 1959, total consumption of "red meats" in Canada increased some 5% over the same period of 1958. Pork disappearance rose 25% between 1956 and 1957, and was down 1% and veal dropped 14%.

During 1958 Canada ranked seventh among the countries of the world in per capita meat consumption. Australia led with 225 lb. per capita; New Zealand 220; Uruguay 205; Argentina 160; U.S.A. 152; Denmark 142; Canada 130; U.K. 130; Paraguay 125; and France 125 lb.
